showed average lesses in the early dealings of about 1-2 point. Foreign houses dealt heavily here at the opening, and on both sides of the account.

There was a virtual absence of local news or gossip bearing upon the general market or particular stocks.

There were some conspicuous exceptions to the early tendency of the merket, Sugar Refining being strong, while the tobacco stocks advanced rapidly.

There was a halt in the upward movement of prices this morning, if it is to prove nothing more serious. The opening was at a concessio from the closing level of lest night, and he first hour witnessed a general decline of from a small fraction to a point or more. The public buying continued, but there were so many orders to close out for the small profits recently obtained that they cutweighed the business of the bulls. The general expectation had been that the market would see a reaction today, but most people had looked for a buoyant opening. The market leaders may have opened business with the recession to prevent these people from liquidating as much as possible. It was a very evident fact that this liquidation, although large, was not as great as would have been the case if the opening had been up a point or two instead of off. Some of the most careful. great as would have been the case if the opening had been up a point or two instead of off. Some of the most careful operators do not look for any important reaction at this time. They say that politics has been the inception of the present boom, and that it would be very 100r politics to allow a tumble to occur now, two weeks before the election. These 100-ple advise the purchase of stocks on the reactions. The total of business on the Exchange yesterday was over $80,000 shares. It seemed probable that inis would not be equaled today. Yesterday was the largest session since April 17.

Call money this morning was loaned at Nov .... 4 per cent. No fear of a higher rate than 6 per cent is feared and it not believed that even this will be maintained for long. The gold receipts so far have been nearly $2,000,000 and the shipments to the interior have been small. The bank statement this week probably will show an increase of reserve.

The granger securities generally were fairly strong, though at prices not equal to the best of yesterday. The Atchesons are the best of the group. St. Paul sold down to 116 and Rock Island down to 109.

The buying of the Atchison securities continues on a large scale. It is probable that the character of the buying of these stocks is of a better average character than that of any others on the list. The best commission houses in the Street are advising their customers to invest in the preferred, especially, and the predic-tions that it will sell at par before the end of another year are many. CHARGE AGAINST ROBERTS.

The United States Trensurer Accused in New York.

A New York paper this mcrning p inted a story declaring that Ellis H. R.berts, Treasurer of the United States, would be locked up in Ludlow Street jail at New York if he could be found by any count of an unpaid judgment for $21. 147.76, secured against him by his sister, Jane L. Brooks.

Mr. Roberts left Washington last night or Columbus, Ohio, to speak temorrow before the Ohio Bankers' Association. Accordingly he could not be seen today by a reporter. The alleged misappropriation of trust funds caused much interest at the time of the suit, and it was thought for a while that Mr. Roberts might be called upon to leave the Treasury Department on account of the alleged scandal. Nothing, however, was done about it. The story, as printed today in New York,

"Mrs. Brooks (Mr. Roberts' sister) is nearly eighty years old, and feeble. Many years ago she bought a house in West Thirty-second street, near Fifth Avenue It was heavily mortgaged, but by industry and thrift she paid off the indebtedness. In November, 1895, she sold the house for $35,000, which represented the savings of a lifetime, and the following day deposited $27,591.54 in the Franklin National Bank, of which Treasurer Roberts was then president.

"Subsequently Mrs. Brooks gave to Treasurer Roberts $32,256.25 in trust to invest so that she could obtain 6 p r cent interest. Mr. Roberts in est d $13,056 in railroad bonds, and according to the report filed by Daniel F. Ingraham,

January 1, 1897, Ellis H. Roberts ap-propriated and converted to his own use out of the money of said plaintiff and without her knowledge or consent, the 'Justice Truax appointed Referee Ingraham to take testimony in January, 1899, and it was sworn to by witnesses that a large part of Mrs. Brooks' money had been invested in stock of the Hocking Valley Railroad, and the certificate was in the name of Ellis H. Roberts, personally, instead of as trustee for his "Lawyers Richard J. Lewis, of 58 William Street, and Thomas J. Rush, of 100 Broadway, contested the case bitterly, but Secret Service officials have just discovered a new counterfeit $5 bill. It is an imitation of the Indian head silver certificate, and is well calculated to dedoubt that the trust fund had been misapceive the average person. It is printed propriated, and the judgment was entered for the full amount claimed by Mrs. Brooks. on two sheets of linen paper, between which red and blue silk fibres were pasted. Only one of the counterfeits has come to light thus far. It was discovered last week by the Fifth National Bank of New York.
